Description Rare elite honey, produced from an exotic plant Amur cork-tree that grows only in the Russia's Far East and northeast China.

The honey is naturally crystallized, has yellow-white color.

The proposed honey has been extracted in the purest place on Earth - in the wilderness of the Russia's Far East taiga (100 km from the nearest settlement) by the "old believers" communities.

Amur cork-tree has been used by native people of Russia's Far East for the treatment of meningitis, bacillary dysentery, pneumonia, tuberculosis, and liver cirrhosis. Here is some info from Wiki about Amur cork tree (Phellodendron amurense): https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Phellodendron_amurense

Amur cork-tree honey has very intense aroma and is also revered for its miraculous healing powers. The most famous of its properties is anti-tuberculosis effect.

The color may vary from amber with light green to yellow-white. With time it always gets thicker, lighter and reminds linden or acacia honey.

The taste is very tender, sweet but not sugary, with long-lasting aftertaste. It is a true temptation: when you try it once you cannot help to take it more.)))

In folk medicine it is widely used to treat:

- low immunity;
- SARS and ENT diseases;
- pancreatic diseases;
- inflammatory processes in urogenital system;
- liver diseases;
- insomnia, nervousness;
- chemical and radiological contamination of the body.
